EXPERIENCE

Peter has been actively involved in sustainable development and the urban environment for over 13 years.

Peter brings to projects the advantage of having been on 'both sides of the fence'. With experience in private practice, local and state government, he brings to the project incredible knowledge and experience on detailed planning and policy advice and a political acumen to ensure a smooth process for your project.

Peter held the position for 3 years of Manager, Projects and Public Domain at Kogarah Council, where he was responsible for the design and implementation of the public domain and principle capital projects within the Kogarah Municipality. During this time he has regularly consulted to the Urban Planning Unit to develop policy, development control plans and provided urban design and architectural advice and established the Design Review Panel.

Prior to Kogarah Council, Peter was Design Architect at Allen Jack + Cottier for seven years, where he was responsible for leading teams in medium density residential development (over 900 apartments) urban design and master planning projects. It was at Allen Jack + Cottier where he was responsible for the preliminary urban design and later architectural design of the Kogarah Town Square development.

Peter is well known within the field of sustainable medium density architecture, and regularly talks at conferences and seminars. He is also a part-time lecturer at the University of Technology, Sydney in Integrated Environmental Design - a core subject within the Architecture program.

In the field of urban design, Peter plays an active industry role. He is currently the Chair of the Urban Design Alliance (a partnership between the RAIA, PIA and AILA) and is a current advisory member to the Minister for Planning on planning reform and regularly advises on Urban Design issues for both state and local government.

Peter brings to the project an in-depth knowledge of the operations within a Local Government structure, architecture, planning policy, urban design, architecture and sustainable development, including water sensitive urban design.
