EXPERIENCE + INTERESTS

1994 – 2004. Alexander Tzannes and Associates
2004 - Habitation (Partner and Director)

Andrew is the design director at Habitation and combines excellence in architectural detail design with large scale urban design.

Prior to Habitation Andrew has 10 years of experience with renowned architects Alexander Tzannes and Associates where he was closely involved with a diverse range of architectural disciplines ranging from singular and multi- residential projects, commercial developments and urban design.

He has extensive experience and played an important role in design, documentation and contract administration of high quality award winning projects which have been widely publicised in Australia and overseas.

Recent projects include high density residential apartments in Queenstown New Zealand, medium density residential and retail development in Carringbah and Sutherland, street works and light pole/street furniture design for Norton Street Leichhardt and Rockdale Councils and numerous high quality single residential projects in the Eastern suburbs, Stanwell Park and Bowral.

Andrew was asked to work as an in-house detail designer for a renowned joinery manufacturer where he designed and documented internal fitouts including kitchens, bathrooms, joinery items and furniture for numerous top-end houses and apartment buildings in the eastern suburbs.

Andrew brings to the project vast experience with detailed design including architecture, interior spaces, joinery and furniture design.
